

This Side Of The Sun

By Phat

Well, May is at an end and it upheld its reputation as being one of the nicest months on the desert. According to the old doggerel along the lines of 30 days hath and so on, May always comes up with 31. A hurried check through the files of the Sun discloses that out of those 31 days, only 13 of them had 3-digit maximums. It was over 100 just 13 times and most of those 13 days found the maximum 100 flat, meaning just 100 and not 101. Nine May days were in the 90s, seven in the 80s and two in the 70s. The hottest day was May 3 with 115 and the coolest was May 10 when the hottest it got was 77 degrees. Sounds rather complicated—but there it is. Tried to figure out the mean temperature but was told there wasn't any in May, it was all nice.

MAY STARTED out with a bang. 108, 112, 115 and the people to whom I had bragged, started avoiding me along about May 4 when it was still in the 100s. During the April warm spell I had been reassuring Mrs. G., spending her first Spring here: "Just wait until May—then it's delightful." On May 3, when the maximum hit 115, I wished I had a hat. So I could toss it in through the door first to see whether I could come in. And then came that delightful drop. On May 10 any phantom hat tossed into the door would not have come sailing out. It was only 77 tops. If June follows the May pattern, somebody had better start a "Stay Through June" campaign. June started out with a 100 degree maximum on the first. Perhaps it will cool off, too, between here and July 1.

NOW TO THE MAIL and agents around the Village. Bob Bennett, ex-burro train maestro, says he wishes Earl Strebe would make up his mind. Bennett calls attention to a sign at The Plaza theater: "It Happened on Fifth Avenue," and another on the Palm Springs theater: "It Happened in Brooklyn." An unidentified reader, living on Paseo El Mirador reports that Saturday night a neighbor hired an orchestra to amuse himself and every time an automobile drove past, would leap out of the front door and shout: "All passing automobiles will be charged $1.50 convert charge for hearing the music." In reply to a flock of postcards all on the same subject: "All right, so they do stand on their hind legs to cool off their front toes. But, you're going to call them 'chuckwallas,' leave out the 'a' between the 'k' and 'w'. The lino-type operator is a nature student and doesn't like it spelled 'Chuckawalla'."

ONE COMMUNIQUE this week was relative to those white lines on the pavement which are supposed to separate those going north from those driving south on Palm Canyon drive. "Dear Sir: (you see, I get formal letters as well as insulting cards). Dear Sir: Let us forget benches and street signs and so on for the nonce and discuss painted stripes on the pavement. You take them as a matter of course but when they aren't there, you certainly miss them. In the block where the school is located and north, on Palm Canyon drive, that center stripe is all but obliterated. It's especially bad because the line takes a sudden shift to the west and I've noticed plenty of people driving on the wrong side of the street there. These light hogs who refuse to dim are of no assistance. Tell the city you'll let up on benches and street signs in exchange for a few white lines." Won't do any good, mister, the state is supposed to take care of those lines. Just hug the right side of the road and you'll be o. k.

PALM SPRINGS is getting publicity in the national magazines and in national syndicates columns. Bernard of Hollywood has sold a color lay-out of the Racquet Club to Photoplay, biggest film magazine. It's entitled "The Racquet Club, Playground of the Stars." The current issue of Liberty is displaying pictures of the Colonial House and of the Tennis Club, all nice plugs for Palm Springs. Ed Durling in his column recently had a paragraph about Gene Nifford of Orange Gene fame. Nifford, by the way, is opening so many Orange Gene stands around the country that he's going to make the citrus industry hump. He's now at Lomita with Mrs. Nifford, for the summer.

STAY THROUGH JULY, August too, in fact, all the time if and when World War III breaks out. Joe Jeffers, leader of the Temple of Yahweh, says his cult had bought 328 acres of land 16 miles from here for an A-Bomb sanctuary. There'll be pools to swim in, horses to ride, cows to milk and bees too—well, what do you do to take honey from a bee? Don't bother to answer that one because that's not the thought here. The idea is, that if a spot near Cabazon is safe from the atomic age, why isn't Palm Springs? And if you prefer A-Bombs to August, that's all right, too.

James Shea Elected C. of C. President

Dillon Resigns From Board, 3 Seek Position

Speculation was rife today throughout the desert area as to who Governor Earl Warren will appoint to the vacancy created by the resignation yesterday of county supervisor Robert E. Dillon representing the fourth district.

The ailing Dillon handed in his resignation yesterday and was effective as of noon the same day. In making the motion to accept the resignation Supervisor Floyd E. Gilmore of Hemet expressed regret with his action. Dillon has been in ill health for many months and last December resigned as chairman of the board of supervisors.

LOOMING as possible appointees to the vacancy is Harry Harper, manager-secretary of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce; Wallace P. Rouse, attorney and police court judge of Indio, and William Kerstner, Coachella Valley citrus grower and banker.

The projection of Kerstner's name as a possible candidate only took place during the last few days. For more than a month previously the names of Harry Harper and Rouse were the only ones contained on petitions circulated in Indio city, Coachella, Blythe and Palm Springs. Friends of Rouse in Indio city have been waging a hot campaign for his appointment through both newspapers and workers in the field.

FOR MANY MONTHS after it became known that Dillon planned to resign, Harry Harper and others worked for the selection of a resident in the Desert.

Village Honors Its Hero Dead

Almost sixty people gathered at the Palm Springs cemetery in observance of Memorial Day participated in by the Owen Coffman Post of the American Legion, pastors of the Catholic, Episcopal and Community churches and Boy Scout Troop 39.

Music for the solemn occasion was furnished by the choral and chancel choirs of the Community church.

THE GRAVES of three Village veterans were decorated by wreaths—Cecil Isenagie, Thomas Tangdon and Cliff Frager.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lienau received a plaque from Palm Springs Boy Scout Troop 39, in memory of their son Herbert who lost his life in action during World War II. During Herbert's youth he was a member of the Scout troop.

THE PROGRAM began with invocation by Reverend Cornelius Moynihan, pastor of Our Lady of Solitude. This was followed by the choral and chancel group who sang: "To a Hero" by Fred Waring. They were accompanied on the organ by Mrs. William Lux.

Reverend James H. Blackstone made the main Memorial Day address after which Robert Hillery of Troop 39 made the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Lienau.

Mrs. Violet Fowler then rendered a solo hymn. At this point the wreaths were placed on the three soldier graves. Reverend Robert M. Hogarth gave the benediction. The services were ended with the blowing of taps by two members of the Palm Springs high school band.

City Full Up For Three-Day Holiday

May went out in traditional Palm Springs style—the temperatures in the 80's on the top side and in the 50's during the nights.

And the end of the month with its three-day Memorial Day holiday, found Palm Springs full up in the best mid-season style. The cavalcade started early Friday—some even came Thursday night. By mid-morning Friday, however, highway 111 from the junction into the city was crowded by a steady stream of automobiles. Palm Canyon drive was as crowded as during the winter weekends.

LINEs FORMED at restaurants which were still open as the visitors awaited their turn to eat.

Many winter residents who had left earlier in the month returned with guests to re-open their

Officials For Year Named By Directors

Plans for Active Season Discussed at Board Meeting

James "Jimmie" Shea, popular manager for the Southern Pacific in the Palm Springs area, yesterday was elected president of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce in the first meeting of the 1947-48 board of directors.

Shea, who has served as vice-president for the past year, succeeds in the presidency Phil Delano who was warmly commended by the directors for a year of outstanding activity and accomplishment to the community organization.

SERVING with President Shea will be Florian Boyd and Kenneth Kirk as vice-presidents, Stanley Rosen as secretary, and Charles Mathews, treasurer. Harry C. Harper was reappointed manager. New officers assumed their duties as of Sunday June 1st.

Besides serving as vice-president during the past year, Shea has headed the committee welcoming new businesses and also was chairman of the Spring Festival held recently at the Desert Inn.

AFTER HEARING results of survey throughout the business district that showed a four-to-one vote in favor of installation of parking meters, the directors authorized a letter to the city council conveying this information and inquiring of the council if further steps by the chamber of commerce are desired. The vote on the post card ballot was 216 for and 53 against. Slightly less than 50 per cent of the cards were returned but the ratio between the pros and cons remained virtually unchanged from the start, the directors were informed.

The report also showed that the business and professional men and women voting "yes" on the meter survey installation also answered the same to the query as to whether they would recommend to the council that proceeds from the meters should be earmarked for acquisition of permanent off-street parking lots.

DIRECTOR FRANK CUTLER, president of the Palm Springs Home-Owners League, reported to the board completed plans for incorporating the league to increase its usefulness and broaden

A-Bomb Sanctuary Planned Near City

Yahweh Springs, high above Cabazon at a 7800-foot level, and 16 miles, as the crow flies, from Palm Springs, will spring into being soon, populated by followers of Rev. Joe Jeffers, leader of the Temple of Yahweh.

It will be an atom-free refuge, Jeffers said, in telling of the purchase of the 823-acre ranch in the hills just this side of Cabazon.

Jeffers added that he was moving his Temple to the ranch, over-looking the desert, because "Los Angeles will be atom-bombed within two years." He added, as an afterthought, that the British Isles will be blasted and sink beneath the sea within five years.

THE RANCH was purchased by Jeffers from Clarence Birney. The price was not announced. It has a six-room house, a six-apart-

BY THE TIME the dire happenings he predicts will hit Los Angeles and other parts of the world, his people will be at the ranch which will be a hustling thriving city by then. Those who are not there will be given ample warning of the coming disasters.

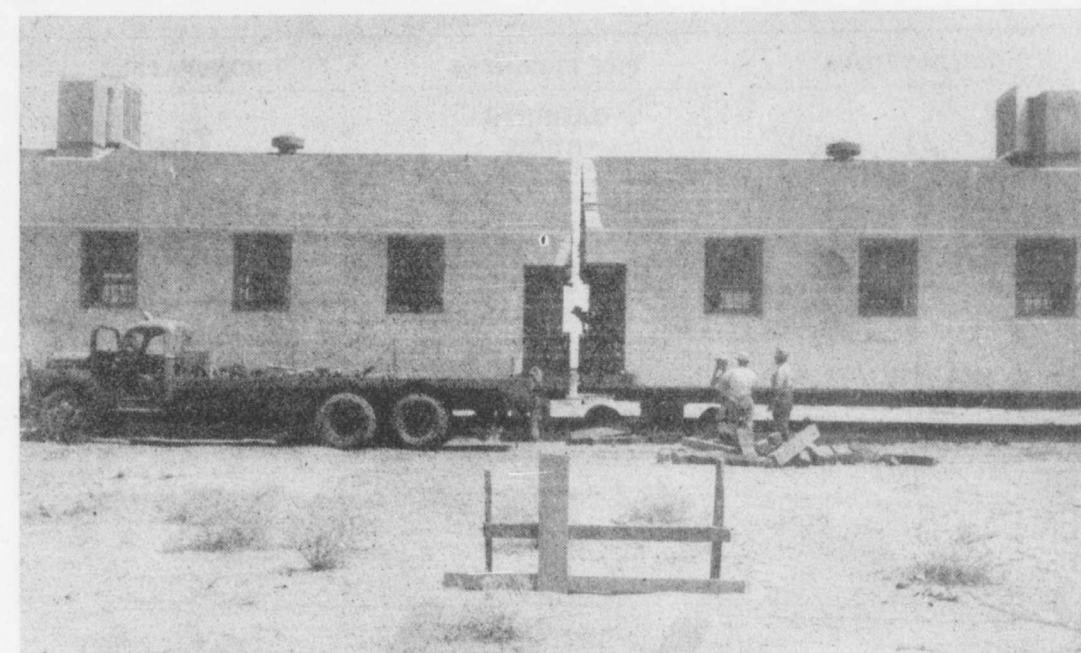

Yahweh Springs will be a land of milk and honey. The bees are already there and the cows will be added. There will be swimming pools and horses to ride. The horses are already there, too.

Even the busy bees won't have to be so busy for a special honeycomb has been designed so the bees won't have to waste time fabricating their own.

YAHWEH SPRINGS will fill up fast, the leader of the cult said.

Already, 65 families have pledged themselves to undertake the pioneering end of the plan and "hundreds of others will follow."

It won't be long, he prophesized, before his A-Bomb sanctuary will be a hive of building operations.

TOGETHER—Two halves of the first unit of the new veterans' housing project at the Field Club come together. The building, formerly doing war duty on the Torney Hospital grounds, was converted into apartments there and moved in two sections to the Field Club where it was put together again. When the project is completed, there'll be apartments for 100 veterans' families from converted Torney buildings. (Desert Sun photo.)

First Veterans Housing Unit Reaches Site

First of the ten former ward buildings of the wartime Torney General Hospital to be converted into 100 apartments for veterans at the Field Club was set in place on its new foundation Friday.

The long single story structure was moved from its old site at Torney General Hospital in two sections as will the other nine that are to follow.

THE SITES at the Field Club have been in the process of preparation for some time and as the buildings are set in their assigned places, water piping and other utilities are all ready to be connected.

At the same time workmen have been converting the interiors of the buildings at the Torney site into single and double apartments.

The double bedroom apartments according to Barney Hinkle in charge of the emergency housing project, will rent for approximately $72 per month and the single bedroom units in the neighborhood of $60 including the cost of utilities.

ONLY VETERANS of World War I and World War II will be housed here.

Mind's Power Cited in Avak Case

Motion Picture Magnate Finds Words Difficult in Recounting Impressions

Darryle Zanuck, "dealer" in glamour and maker of stars, who is no mean hand in the use of superlatives when it comes to describing some of the motion picture products produced by 20th Century Fox Film Corporation, groped for words Sunday in which to describe his impression of Avak—and the apparently tremendous impact the first meeting of the two, left on the film magnate.

Avak in company with members of the Arkelian family, with whom the faith healer is staying in Palm Springs, and where, for the past few weeks, he has been conducting his free faith healing clinic for the thousands who have journeyed to see him here, paid a social call at the Zanuck estate Saturday evening.

REPORTS from the Zanuck household indicated that the diminutive head of the house, acclaimed a wizard in the motion picture world and who is reputed to have conducted himself with perfect calm in the presence of the outstanding celebrities of the world—acted like a teen-aged, taking his "date" to his first dance.

In describing his first meeting with Avak to newsmen the following day, Zanuck became lost in a maze of thought that apparently left him for a loss of words in which to properly express his opinion of the young 20-year-old former goldsmith of Iran.

"I DON'T KNOW how to express the feeling I felt on my meeting with Avak," the film head declared. His eyes were fastened on the distant peaks of the desert mountains that surround Palm Springs and he continued to grope for words.

"He has the most electrifying personality I have ever had the pleasure of meeting," Zanuck seemed to be musing to himself. "I can't find words to adequately describe the young man. He is definitely different than any other person I have met."

AS THE interview progressed Zanuck warmed up to his subject. It was obvious that he had been deeply moved by his meeting with Avak as he moved nervously around the edge of his swimming pool answering questions put by the reporters.

"I don't know what to think about the man," he continued in talking about Avak. "Without a doubt he is very sincere. It is my opinion that he will deeply affect."

In New Location

Come to The Center for Newspaper Needs

Come on down to The Center. The Desert Sun is now located at 174C North Palm Canyon drive, in a new location to await completion of its own new building a short distance from its present site. It's the third office from Palm Canyon drive in the new and modern Center block. Business, advertising, commercial printing and circulation offices are at 174C, The Center, and the editorial rooms just a bit east.

Although the location is different, the telephone numbers are the same—2249 for all functions at 174C and 3741 for the editorial rooms.

The Sun is now in the center of things in The Center—a cool shade few steps from the Drive—and can be reached by dialing 2249 for advertising, circulation of printing and 3741 to call in the news.

Horsemen Back from 4-Day Ride

Good Fellowship, Lots of Riding, Plenty of Food

Good fellowship, plenty of clean fun, a lot of hard riding and bountiful amounts of chow featured the four-day second annual ride of Palm Springs Horsemen's Association.

The ride which started Thursday morning and concluded Sunday night, was participated in by 39 members of the organization and was called the Palms to Pines ride. An almost equal entourage of wranglers and kitchen help accompanied the group. John "Porky" Harris of the U. S. Forestry Service had charge of the feeding, and there was fear on the part of those who ate great amounts of what was called his "irresistible provender" that they, too, would assume the proportions of "Porky," five feet tall and five feet wide.

ACCORDING to Tony Burke, who reported the events of the ride, the weather was superb all the way.

"Our second night's camp at Juan Diego Flats was enveloped in heavy fog which eventually began dripping on our bedrolls and didn't let up until eight the next morning. Nobody was any worse for it, though. There were times, too, when we were up around 5,000 feet among magnificent pines and oaks and could look down upon an immense sea of fleecy white fog smothering the Hemet valley."

"There wasn't one sour-puss nor were there any unpleasant incidents on the whole trip. Good fellowship and good fun were the key notes. Camp life was pretty wild and woolley, yet I don't believe there was one broken glass."

"WE ONLY LOST our way about three times and there were occasions when the group split up into three sections to find their way over rugged terrain in the dark."

Grateful

Visitor Regains Purse and Contents

W. P. Thomas, 9601 Cattaraugus, Los Angeles, was thanking his lucky stars today that Katherine Dombroski is one person who believes in honesty as the best rule.

Sometime Sunday afternoon Thomas dropped his purse containing $82 in the vicinity of the Village Pharmacy on Palm Canyon drive.

At 6:35 p.m., according to the police Miss Dombroski walked into the police station and handed the purse over to the clerk with the $82 still intact.

At 9:17 Thomas came in to report the loss of his pocketbook and when he was finished giving its description to the police clerk, he was flabbergasted to have it handed over to him—$82 and all it contained.

"I'm sure going to give Miss Dombroski a reward," declared the thankful Thomas.

The PUBLISHER'S Corner

by OLIVER B. JAYNES

GRATIFYING is the immediate and emphatic denial by Robert E. Dillon, supervisor from the Fourth District, of the report that he would not resign unless he was assured that Judge Wallace P. Rouse of Indio was named as his successor. Supervisor Dillon, who represents that vast district extending from Calimesa on the west to the Colorado river on the east and which includes Palm Springs and environs, apparently has no desire to be placed in the position of attempting to dictate.

The report is credited to the Desert Barnacle of Coachella and was picked up by other newspapers, possibly with political intent, without verification.

Should Dillon resign, three men have been mentioned to fill his place: Judge Rouse, Harry Harper, secretary of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, and William Kerstner of Coachella. It is understood that an aggressive campaign in Judge Rouse's behalf is being conducted by a political group in Indio. Harper has not been actively seeking the position but is being urged to do so by a number of Villagers.

THE DESERT AREA has never had a representative on the Riverside county board. A Banning resident is as close as we have ever come, and yet the Fourth District pays 40 percent of the county's tax bill. Problems are obviously different. The area should be recognized; perhaps it will be by Governor Warren if Dillon does resign. We hope so.

We would like to see a Palm Springs man named on the board. Harper is well known in Riverside, where he formerly published a newspaper, and has qualifications which fit him for the position. He is a hard worker and would likely be a credit to the district he served. Should a vacancy on the board occur, the Village would do well to rally to his support.

FIRST MEETING—Curiosity on the part of Sally May, the cat, turned into a spitting, talon-prepared episode as the imperturbable Carlisle, 100-year-old turtle, continued to approach intent on making friends. Both pets belong to Mrs. Florence McRory, who also took the picture.

Turtles Are Nice People to Have Around the House, Claims Villager

"Turtles lend a peaceful atmosphere around a home." Such is the opinion of Mrs. Florence McRory, wife of Dr. O.

B. McRory, veterinarian, who declares that Carlisle, the 100-year-old desert tortoise is a gentle pet and one of the most curious members of the household including the cat and a dog.

Mrs. McRory has had Carlisle for ten years and not long ago he was presented with a 70-year-old wife by the name of Myrtle. Since then Mrs. McRory said Carlisle is somewhat aloof with the rest of the family and is reluctant in coming when called for chow.

When Sally May, a tabby of mixed progenitors, was adopted by the McRory menage, it took the cat a considerable length of time to get used to the slow-crawling tortoise. When it came close to Sally May in its migrations around the yard, the cat would spit and arch its back much to the chagrin of Carlisle who had only the friendliest of intentions. The turtle is said to be fond of tomatoes, figs, dates and is just "crazy about watermelon and cantaloupes", Mrs. McRory added.

Woman Identifies Suspect as Man Who Got Savings

Gussivor Gaynor, 55, negro, returned by Chief of Police August Kettmann Sunday morning from Oakland on a warrant charging him with grand larceny, was positively identified by Mrs. Gladys Hurt, negro, as the man who buncoed her out of $1100 in life savings last April.

A female accomplice used by Gaynor is still being sought by the authorities.

THE MODUS OPERANDI used in bilking Mrs. Hurt was the age old "lost pocketbook" gag or "pigeon drop" as it is known in criminal parlance.

Mrs. Hurt was first approached by a negro woman who asked questions about the best place to establish a restaurant. During the conversation, Gaynor's partner in crime, drew the attention of Mrs. Hurt to "that man picking up a pocketbook."

ACCORDING to Mrs. Hurt, when Gaynor attempted to pass the two women his accomplice stopped him to say that he was seen picking up the purse. After much conversation Mrs. Hurt was allowed a peek at the contents of the purse and told that she would share in its wealth for $1100 as a token of "good faith."

Mrs. Hurt complied. Her feelings were extremely hurt when both Gaynor and his accomplice vanished with both the $1100 and the purse.

Reception for Graduates at McKinney Home

A joint reception honoring Don McKinney and Louis La France, on the occasion of their graduation from the Palm Springs high school was held at the McKinney home, 634 S. Palm Canyon drive. Approximately fifty guests were present to congratulate both graduates. Refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed to the music of Manuel Marmaljo's string trio.

Louis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis La France Sr., and Don McKinney, the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. McKinney.

Charles Skouras Can Brag Today

Charles Skouras, well known Palm Springs winter resident and a leading west coast theater executive, this week was able to brag.

He shot a hole-in-one at the Bel-Air golf course, sending the pellet into the cup on the fly. He did it with a mashie iron on the No. 5, 110-yard hole.

With him in the foursome when he performed his feat were G. Arthur Rank, British film executive, Robert Young of Pathe, and Marvin Stahl, a former golf pro.

Postpone Ceremony Of Installation Of Legion Chiefs

Installation of newly elected officers of the Owen Coffman Post of the American Legion will not take place tonight as scheduled, it was announced by Gerald Sanborn, commander of the organization. Instead he said, the regular meeting will take place in the Fiesta House of the Desert Inn.

Postponement of the installation is due to the inability of a degree team from Riverside to be present at tonight's meeting. The installation date will be re-set at the meeting tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis off for Honolulu

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Davis, owner-operators of the swanky Colonial House, sailed for Hawaii May 30.

On their return to the mainland, both plan a trip to the east coast and return to the Village some time in September.

Sarthau Again is Scheduled to Face Judge, Jury, Today

Alexander Sarthou, the man who has a penchant for jury trials even if he is arrested for a minor offense, is scheduled to face his first jury in Judge Eugene E. Theriault's court this morning.

The charge is disturbing the peace and Sarthou, when this trial is completed has three more disturbing the peace charges yet to be answered in addition to one which he was charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. He asked for jury trials in every case.

His trial today was postponed at request of defense attorney from May 27.

It's P.Q. Time Again in Village; Only 3 Elbow-Bending Spots Open

Those in the Village who like a little authority in their summer drinks today had only three spots where they could get it over the mahogany.

For it's P. Q. time in Palm Springs.

P. Q. means per quarter and of all of the liquor licenses extant in the Village, all are of that variety except four. Those four places have seasonal licenses, good all the year around. The P. Q.'s are good for but nine months, the theory being that there's not sufficient business during the summer months to warrant remaining open.

BUT ONE of the spots with the seasonal licenses—the Colonial House—is closed for the summer. That leaves The Dunes, The Lido and the Chi Chi open.

The other spots closed up at midnight Saturday. They will remain closed during June, July and August.

Villagers who have favorite spots and favorite barten—sorry—mixologists, that is, helped them end the season Saturday night and most of them were full up when the curtain was rung down at 11:50 p. m. The P. Q. places will open again Sept. 1.

DURING THE WAR when the town was filled with soldiers and war workers, the state board of equalization relaxed its ruling and allowed all lounges to remain open all summer.

But last year, the SBE cracked down and its first ruling subtracted the excess months the places had been opened from the year's total. That would have closed many spots right in the height of the season. The board later relented and allowed the bars to remain open until June 1.

Tuberculosis Assn. Mobile Unit Takes 9641 X-Ray Views

Through use of its mobile X-ray unit, Riverside County Tuberculosis and Health Association reached all sections of the county including Palm Springs during the past year and took 9641 miniature X-rays, according to the recently-issued annual report.

The preventive program resulted in locating 188 positive findings which served as a forewarning before the disease conditions became aggravated.

ANOTHER phase of the program was the supplying of material for 6000 tuberculin tests among school children.

"Through the years," the report announced, "this service has developed into a program which is giving 100 per cent protection from 'in school' sources of tuberculosis infection. All positive reactors to the tuberculin test are X-rayed."

Among the association's grants from Christmas Seal money was one to help inaugurate a program of occupational therapy at County Hospital, to aid in a program of re-orientation and rehabilitation of tuberculosis patients.

THE ASSOCIATION pointed out that Riverside county's tuberculosis death rate is still, however, higher than either the National or the State average.

"Pride in our own community," the report said, "makes it our duty to bring these figures into line."

Don't Brag So Much,
It'll Cost You Cash

When you send out announcements to friends heralding the arrival of junior or sister, be careful about what you write in on the cards. The post office department at Washington plans to crack down on those who fudge and write in statistics as to weight of the new arrival, or any other information other than the printed card.

Too much writing and the announcements will have to be sealed and carry first-class postage.

Indio Elks Plug Along and Score in Almost Every Inning to Down Local All-Stars 8 to 4 in Exciting Game

The Palm Springs All-Stars, who start their Inter-City season against Hemet this week at the Field Club, dropped their last practice game of the season when they met the Indio Elks on the local lot.

The final count was eight to four, a steady nibbling away by the visitors who scored in all but two innings, giving them the victory. Palm Springs got most of its markers in one big inning.

EXTRA BASE hits were plentiful during the fray. The visitors banged out three triples and three two-baggers in accumulating ten hits off two Village pitchers.

On the local side of the ledger, Palm Springs' batters had two home-runs to their credit.

Two singles and a double in the first scored two for Indio and a triple followed by an error, two more in the third. Miley Cowart's home-run with nobody on kept Palm Springs in the game.

RALLYING in the fourth, the Stars tied it up with a three-run outburst. Hartman was passed to first and went second when Olvera tapped one and Indio tried to make it a double-play unsuccessfully. Both men were safe. Then Art Jarado caught one to his liking and clouted it far, wide and handsome to score both men.

ahead of him, making it four-all. It didn't stay that way long. A single and two doubles counted two for Indio in the fifth. Olvera's peg from deep left cut down an Indio runner at third.

INDIO WENT ON to make it sure in the seventh with a walk and a triple and in the eighth with a single and the third three-bagger. Thompson held the Stars helpless in the last three innings.

The line score:
Indio.....2 0 2 0 2 1 1 — 8 10 2
Palm Sps 0 1 0 3 0 0 0 — 4 5 1
Thompson and V. Teran; Crossley, Prieto and Allen.

We can think of no prouder parents than Jack and Helen Williams must have been last Thursday night when their son Donald came forward from his Palm Springs high school graduating class to receive the Lion's club award to the outstanding boy of the class and the Allan Hall trophy to the outstanding athlete. Don was completing a cycle started by his sister Marian back in 1938 when she was the winner of the Lion's award in her eighth grade class. Since that time all three of the Williams, Marian, Helen Louise and Don have received this great honor both from Junior high school and high school which is an outstanding record for any family. Certainly in this day and age when we are constantly hearing about juvenile delinquency and delinquent parents, there should be some award for parents that have raised such a wonderful family although for Jack and Helen their reward lies in the success of their children. Don plans to attend Redlands university next season where his sister Helen will be student body vice-president. Marian, a graduate of Pomona, will become the bride of Don Leonard of Redlands Sunday at the Community church. Equally proud were the parents of Barbara Croft who received the award for the outstanding girl. Barbara also started her school career down here in the first grade.

SATURDAY NIGHT found many Villagers taking in the Cherry Festival at Beaumont. Dining at Marcos before taking in the show were Al and Esther Wiengarten, Earl and Alice Hough and Harold and Hazel West. The Al Taylors were also in the Pass town for the festivities.

Gordon and Vera Nicholson have closed their Merito Vista home for the summer and have gone to Los Angeles. Their Fern Valley cottage will be occupied by Elise MacNeil and her daughter. Colonel and Mrs. Bob Ellsworth have taken a place at Wrightwood for the summer months. Daughter Marilyn will spend six weeks of her vacation at a girl's camp in the Colorado Rockies.

Florence and Don Lockett's twenty-first wedding anniversary today was marked by sad news from home. Florence's father passed away last week and burial rites were conducted for him today in Chicago.

One of the bright stars of the Lion's softball team will probably not shine for the remainder of the season. Jack Gorham, catcher for the local team, suffered a broken hand in last Thursday's game against the Mexican Colony. The Colony came out victors in the close and exciting game.

Palm Springs to Meet Hemet Here In Opening Game

Play starts in the Riverside County league Thursday with Hemet meeting Palm Springs at the Field Club at 8 p. m.

Six teams are in the loop, Palm Springs, Hemet, Banning, Indio, Coachella and San Jacinto.

The teams meet in a double home-and-home schedule with the final game due on August 7. Games will be played Thursday nights with one exception—when Banning goes travelling its games will be on Tuesday night. Banning will be here Tuesday, July 1.

Home games for the Village team are this Thursday night against Hemet, Indio here June 26, Banning, July 1, Coachella, July 17, and San Jacinto, July 24.

The local squad has been prepping for the past two weeks, so far on the losing end of practice games but Manager Sid Canales says that when league play starts, things will be different.

search of the elusive trail. This resulted in the discovery of new trail-blazers in the group, with unsuspected talents and also was the cause of a couple of riders being slightly unseated but completely unhurt.

"All the second day, we were in closed forest areas where the green trees and mountain meadows were refreshing sights.

"ARRIVING early at the Sawyer ranch on Saturday for luncheon, we had a couple of hours to kill before the chow was ready so indulged in some stake racing. There were no spills but lot of dust was kicked up while many greenbacks changed hands on the results.

"The Sunday morning's ride back to Lerner Ranch was marked by warmer weather and consequently dryer throats so it was good to see the beer wagon awaiting us and our first sight of women for four days. Wives of the riders had arrived to enjoy luncheon with the sunburned and dusty horsemen, some of whom had beards an eighth of an inch long. With no newspapers nor radios, we had no idea of what had been happening in the world outside. In fact, one well known local character asked if Harry Truman was still president."

Miss Campbell Becomes Bride of Johnny Olson

Marian Evelyn Campbell became the bride of John Olson before a group of close friends at Community church at three o'clock Sunday afternoon. The Rev. James Blackstone, minister of the church, read the marriage vows in a double-ring ceremony.

Attending the happy couple were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Holland, also of Palm Springs.

Sunday evening the bride and groom were honored guests at a swimming party and supper at the Palm Springs Pueblo.

They will make their home in the Village.

The bridegroom is on The Desert Sun staff.

Delay Opening of Youth Center

Formal dedication and opening ceremonies for the new Youth Center on Bellardo road, originally scheduled for June 12, a week from Thursday, have been postponed it was announced yesterday by Mrs. Harold Hicks, chairman of Youth Center activities for the Welfare and Friendly Aid association. Inability to obtain the needed materials to complete the building in time, was given as the reason.

Formal opening will probably be early in July.

In the meantime, those having furniture which they wish to donate to the center, still have the opportunity.

The first suggestion of the establishment of an Agricultural college in the United States was made by George Washington in his first message to Congress in 1790.

DAVIS—Will Merton Davis, son of Clinton H. and Josephine Davis, was born January 12, 1872 at Lost Creek, W. Va., and passed away May 14, 1947, at the Elkhorn hospital, Elkhorn, Wis.

He was married to Lillian Ramsey, March 13, 1929, at Chicago, Ill., since which time they have resided at Williams Bay, Wis.

Mr. Davis was a staunch Seventh Day Baptist and at death was a member of the Milton Wisconsin church. He was also an associate member of the Palm Springs Community church, believing in casting his influence for Christ wherever he might be.

After his first severe heart attack God granted him eleven more years of philanthropic work. His love for people, hospitality and friendliness won him many friends.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, two grandchildren and four sisters. Funeral service was conducted at Milton Church Sabbath afternoon, May 17, by his pastor, Elmo Fitz Randolph, assisted by President Hill. Interment was in Mt. Hope cemetery, Chicago, Elder Kindred officiating.

After a considerable delay in getting started, as is usually the case with a long trip, we finally pulled out of Palm Springs about 9:15 the morning of May 15th. Thursday, Helen Clatworthy was present to give us a send-off and to take pictures of our departure. Penny had been given a large breakfast by "Big Mike" at the sandwich shop, and the station wagon had been filled and serviced at the Standard station. So, down Ramon Road we hummed, the back of the Pontiac, minus the two seats in the rear now, piled high with the most heterogeneous mixture of items you can possibly imagine. For our trip was to be in reality a double one. The far Eastern portion, at the museum conference in Quebec and on tour of the New England museums, would of course necessitate more or less formal attire. Our return jaunt, however, once we left Chicago, would be a camping-out trip, with an occasional stop at a motel to shave and shower. Therefore, we had to plan to take clothing and accoutrement for both halves.

By "we" in this series of summer articles narrating my trip East, I mean myself, Jim, and Penny. Jim is James B. Robertson, sophomore at Cal. in Berkeley and son of Prof. B. L. Robertson, noted electrical engineer at that institution. Penny is the 3-months' old terrier (plus some other undetermined mixture) that this season became the Desert Museum's mascot. She was named after Penny Edwards, the new star of the technicolor farce "Two Guys From Texas" parts of which were filmed recently at nearby Thunderbird Ranch. Miss Edwards volunteered to find a suitable name for the pup, which was one of seven brought home from the high school by Walter Backus (much to his mother's consternation), and she suggested the name "Dubious," in reference to the ancestry. But rather than place a blight on her later years, the pup was christened Penny, and she answers to that name as much as she does to any other. Meaning that Penny is pretty much of a spoiled canine.

SO WE DROVE down Ramon Road, past the high school, and on to the Thousand Palms junction, once called Edom. There we could see Lena, our entry in the Desert Circus parade, sitting up as pretty as you please on her chicken wire-and-plaster-of-Paris boulder. Now, still jubilant over winning first prize in the educational division of the parade, Lena sits outside the office of her creator and most ardent admirer, Harry Oliver, the perennial desert philosopher, the poor man's Will Rogers. What to do with Lena the horned lizard is a problem, she belongs to the Desert Museum, but where to put her?

Beyond Thousand Palms we could see fresh evidence of the long thin excavation extending across the desert between the main Indio highway and the Metropolitan Aqueduct. When questioned by tourists about this line, grizzled Oliver tells them that it's an extension of the Mason-Dixon line, which would make Palm Springs definitely a part of the solid south—if it were true, that is. The real purpose of the line is to bring crude oil from the Texan fields to the coast—or so I was informed.

PAST INDIO, we turned to the left and headed for Blythe. The ocotillo, only a few weeks ago a series of flaming torches along this route, were now brown-tipped with drying seeds-pods. The upper end of the Box Canyon road came and was left behind. When I saw it, I immediately thought of our two hikes to Hidden Springs from the lower end of Box Canyon, and of the two ladies, both of whom were over 80 years of age, who successfully made them. Soon Hayfield Reservoir hove into view on our left. Here it had

6 Cathedral City Students Receive P.S.H.S. Diplomas

At the commencement exercises held at the Palm Springs Union high school Thursday evening, May 29, the following six Cathedral City young men and women received diplomas: Barbara Beeton, Fern Brown, Robert Hillery, Jack Reis, James Gifford Searls, salutatorian, and John Weingartner.

Fern Brown will be employed for a year, and then will enter college. Bob Hillery, who will work with the Cathedral City water company during the summer, expects to enter Redlands university in the fall. Jack Reis plans to do some painting on the desert during the early part of the summer. Jack Weingartner aims to join the regular Navy.

Sanitary Payments Should Be Made Now

The sanitary committee of the chamber of commerce continue to urge payments for garbage collection be made at once. If the new blue card is not displayed after June 5, the collectors have been instructed to discontinue service.

Gas Line Is Going Under the Ground

The gas line which is designed to bring natural gas to Southern California from New Mexico has been placed underground to a point approximately half way between Blythe and Indio on the north side of the valley. The pipe, however, can be seen at the ground extending some distance beyond the area of the pass at Whitewater.

been planned to impound water pumped from Havasu lake back of Parker Dam and to form a fairly large lake, from which water could be pumped on in to Los Angeles as needed. Such a lake was formed, and it persisted several months. Then suddenly it found some subterranean outlet and abruptly drained away, leaving naught but mud in the "reservoir." So now, the water is pumped directly on up into the Hayfield pump-lift and allowed to run on west. This is the summit between Parker and the Cajaleo dam near Corona, and the water courses the entire distance from here by gravity flow alone, downhill the whole way. On by the Chuckawalla mountains on our right, where Mr. Edmund Jaeger and I saw the New Year in—camping out in the midst of those wonderful piles of weathered and malformed granite boulders. Somehow those rugged mountains will always hold a strange fascination for me, an air of undefinable mystery that increases with each new visit. Desert Center was behind us, and next we entered the city of Blythe.

Al's Market Opens for Business Today

Al's market, located on Broadway near A street, is scheduled to open Tuesday. It will be owned and operated by Al Patane, who for about three years served with the directors of personnel at the Palm Springs Army air base. After release from the service, Mr. Patane worked with the Veterans administration and the War Assets administration in Indio. Mr. Patane resides in Palm Springs with his wife and two children, a daughter and infant son. Best wishes for a successful enterprise!

The last week of May, weather-wise, is proving to be better than anticipated, in fact, Tuesday found residents donning heavier clothes under overcast skies. And many people found it necessary to pull out additional blankets during the night.

Route of Canal Is Becoming Evident

Along highway 99 just northwest of Indio these days can be seen the turn-around installation of the Colorado canal, which will end in the Salton Sea. In other words, the plan, at present, is to bring the canal along the North side of the valley to a point just out of Indio, follow a line back along the south side of the valley and empty into the Salton Sea.

The ways and means committee of the chamber of commerce, consisting of Mrs. Claude Cobb, chairman, Paul Clark, Emil Greener, W. R. Hillery, Leslie Kelley, Frank Russell, Ben Scott, G. Carroll Waller, Lawrence Weingartner, and James Wolseley, should certainly be congratulated for the informative letter recently dispatched regarding flood control.

In order to meet the deficit of $5350, a sum which was advanced to the flood control district upon 24-hour notice, property owners have been asked to remit an amount based on the county's 1946 valuation of their property. Property owners are requested to send in their checks as soon as practicable payable to the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce flood fund.

Park, Colo. for balance of summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rater, accompanied by John's aunt Mrs. Lloyd Horner of Redondo Beach, left Friday for Paris, Texas and expect to be gone about two weeks. They will motor back through northern California. Gwen Wood and Jeanette Weingartner are taking care of the date shop during the Raters' absence.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Headley are spending a month or so at Blain, Wash. Mr. Headley expects to pick lots of wild blackberries for pies, before he returns to the desert.

Rev. John Abels has leased his court for three years to Mrs. Gertrude May. The Abels expect to locate at La Jolla, where their son and daughter live.

Welcome back Frank Green and son Ted. They sold their home here a few months ago, but now plan to have Bud Moon build a new one for them at Chuperosa and D streets. Ted will again be a member of the Palm Springs police force.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Seitzinger and son of North Hollywood spent Memorial weekend with the Harold Crawford's.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bowker of the DeLuxe Trailer Park, left May 3 for a month in Cleveland, Ohio, via Prescott, Arizona and Denver, Colorado. They hope to buy a new trailer in Michigan or Illinois. They will spend some time in Stratford, Ont., Canada, near Toronto, where Mr. Bowker hopes to eliminate his sinus trouble with an operation on his nose. They will return the most northerly route through Canada and visit many of their winter guests in Washington and Oregon, arriving back here about September 1. Mr. and Mrs. George Kirk will manage the park this summer and take reservations for fall.

Mrs. Bessie Kelley has been under observation at Loma Linda hospital this past week. The Kelley's plan to leave Wednesday of this week for Lakewood, Ohio, and will possibly continue to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Broadbeck, who have built a new home on D street, are motoring to South Bend, Ind. for a couple of months. En route back Frank expects to do some real fishing, in the Rockies.

Mrs. Winonah Smedley and daughter Shirley, expect to leave June 4th for Salt Lake City, Utah and Blackfoot, Idaho, and other points for a months vacation.

Summer Program For Girl Scouts Starts Tomorrow

Mrs. B. H. Poliak, president of the Palm Springs Girl Scout council, today announced that the rapidly growing Girl Scout organization will this week start its first summer program in the Village.

Mrs. F. A. Morrison will be in charge of Arts and Crafts classes which will start tomorrow at the Girl Scout Little House and will meet every Wednesday through the summer from 10 a. m. until 12 noon and from 1 until 3 in the afternoons. Girls may attend either the morning or afternoon sessions or may bring their lunch and remain for both.

Any Girl Scout aged 10 to 14 or from the Fifth grade up may attend.

The Girl Scouts would like to add cooking and sewing to their many activities and will appreciate any equipment that can be used for these activities.

The girls are also collecting toys now, to be repaired for Christmas gifts. Old toys may be left at the fire station.

zona. They were attended by the groom's brother, John Shelton and Mr. and Mrs. John Rater. They returned via Mexicali, Mex. They will reside in Beaumont, Calif. for the summer, returning here in the fall, as Mr. Shelton is associated with the Union Ice Co.

Dorothy Maddox and son Billy are flying into Hollywood Sunday, they are going to have a big day there visiting radio shows and Warner Bros. studios. Billy will leave Tuesday for Galveston, Texas, for a two weeks visit with his grandmother. From there he will go to Kansas City, Mo. to visit relatives and see old schoolmates.

Children playing with matches started 23,500 fires in the United States during 1945.

Power Co. Given O. K. by U. S. for Expansion Plans

California Electric Power Co. has been authorized by the Federal Power Commission to issue 80,000 shares of preferred stock with a par value of $50 per share to raise some $4,000,000 for new construction, according to reports from Washington, D. C.

Albert C. Cane, company president, and A. B. West, former president and consultant, are in New York arranging for sale of the securities, the head office here announced. F. F. Crocker is head of the local district of the power company.

The stock will be offered at once for competitive bidding by the country's major dealers in securities. The successful bidders in turn are expected to offer the stock to the public in June.

THE NEW CAPITAL will be part of an anticipated expenditure of seven to eight million dollars in the coming two years to expand the company's facilities throughout the three-state system in Southern California, south-

Soroptimists Plan To Meet Weekly Throughout Summer

It was announced at the "pot luck" supper held at the home of Louise Burket last Monday night, that the Soroptimists will continue with their weekly Tuesday luncheons, although the meetings will be unofficial, through the summer.

For the month of June, the luncheons will be held at the La Cita restaurant at the usual hour, 12:30.

Reservations will not be necessary but each Soroptimist member is urged to be present to sustain the deep interest shown by this "baby" club.

The balance will come from reserves and current earnings.

Construction will include new transmission lines and increased substation capacity, described as necessary to serve business already in sight.

The Persian walnut is called "English" in this country because it came to America from England.

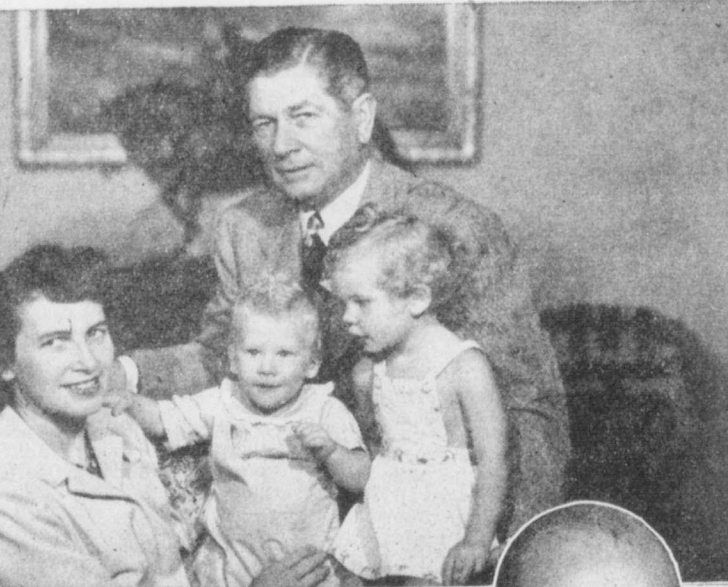

ATTRACTIVE Mrs. Jacquesline Ames (upper left), of Beverly Hills and Palm Springs is an all season resident here along with her young son, Michel. Michel's interests at present center upon cowboys and train engineers and although his mother's concerns are not quite so adventurous, we still find her a very interesting person. Mrs. Ames rides, golfs, swims and in the past has done work in the public relations field which she enjoyed very much. In Palm Springs Mrs. Ames is a member of the Tennis Club. In Beverly Hills she belongs to the Assistance League and Joine Alderman's Salon.

THE EARL COFFMAN family, (upper right) Chuck Lynn being the younger set pictured, are among Palm Springs best known families. Mr. Coffman being part owner of the Desert Inn and son of Mrs. Nellie Coffman, founder of the famous inn. Mrs. Coffman likes to garden and is a member of the new Garden Club, she is also a member of the Welfare and Friendly Aid and has been one of the most industrious women with that group. Mr. Coffman, who has been in Palm Springs approximately 40 years, is active with many civic organizations. This summer the family will go to their home in Del Mar.

POPULAR in Palm Springs are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Colborn, (lower left) residents now for 15 years. Both Mr. and Mrs. Colborn have most interesting hobbies and a very enjoyable evening was spent discussing them. Mrs. Colborn has an extensive doll collection composed of dolls from all over the world dressed in their native costumes. She is fortunate to have the remains of Eugene Fields, the poet, collection and these dolls were shown in the World's Fair of 1893. Her hobby started as a girl when she was traveling abroad and wanted to keep souvenirs of the places she had visited. Mr. Colborn is also a collector and has an aggregation of flasks of all ages, and shapes, including one that is in the shape of P. T. Barnum, one that looks like a railroad engine, etc. The Colborn's son, Kenneth, attends Webb School in Claremont and they are members of the Tennis Club.

NEW PRESIDENT for the Girl Scout Council, Palm Springs District, is Mrs. B. H. Poliak (lower center), who has been working with this organization eight seasons now. Mrs. Poliak is prepared for a busy season as the Scout enrollment is increasing rapidly. Three new troops have been started in Cathedral City this year, two new troops in Desert Hot Springs are preparing to organize and already there are 140 girls registered in Palm Springs. Of course Mrs. Poliak's hobby is easy to discern... children and Girl Scout work. Roberta, her 10 year old daughter is a Scout and she also has a son, Dickie, 8. Mrs. Poliak likes swimming and sees to it that her charges also are able to enjoy it because for the past several months she has taken approximately 20 girls in swimming each day. Summer plans are a trip to the Poliak's summer home in Seattle on Lake Washington.

POPULAR about the Village are the C. Marshall Woods, (lower right), who call Palm Springs and New York their home, and who also usually manage to spend some time at Tahoe. Golf, swimming and riding are listed among the Woods' favorite diversions and in New York they are members of the Sleepy Hollow Country Club, Ardley Country Club, Metropolitan Club, Shattuck Yacht Club, etc. In Palm Springs they belong to the Racquet and Tennis Clubs.

Competition Rears its Ugly Head

Dry Camp Blackie Puts Harry Oliver Into Supervisorial Race; Wants Buzzard Gap Road

Competition reared its ugly head for Harry Harper in the supervisorial campaign this week. Harper, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, is one of the candidates for appointment to the post from the fourth district if, and when, Supervisor Robert E. Dillon resigns.

Now, besides Wallace P. Rouse of Indio, the other candidate, Harry Oliver, alcalde of Thousand Palms, is in the race.

OLIVER'S ENTRY was indicated in a letter from Thousand Palms to The Desert Sun last week. It was brought over by Dry Camp Blackie, well known desert character, Oliver's body guard and source of many of Oliver's legends.

Dry Camp Blackie said he had three signatures on the petition to Gov. Earl Warren asking Oliver's appointment.

"I'm sure of at least six more," he said. "There are six guys who owe me money and they'll sign or pay up."

BLACKIE, personally, couldn't sign the petition. His claim is across the county line in San Bernardino county.

"I'm for Oliver for supervisor because the main plank in his platform is a road from Rancho Mirage to the Aqueduct road through Buzzard's Gap—and I'm for that, too."

Oliver, asked for an interview, said that he was No. 3 on Harper's petition. He said he had a hazy recollection of signing Rouse's petition but couldn't remember the number.

IN THE MEANTIME, Supervisor Dillon who represents the Fourth district which extends from Calimesa to the Colorado and from the county line south, taking in Palm Springs and all of the county's desert, hadn't said yes or no on the date of his expected resignation or whether there'd be one. He has been in poor health for some time.

When asked whether he'd continue in his campaign to change the name of Riverside county to Desert county, Oliver was non-committal.

"Can't tell until I consult the Yogi letters," he said.

the responsibility of its operation. Proposed plans for changes in the cooperative working agreement between the league and the chamber of commerce were outlined to the board and approved unanimously. The chamber's by-laws will be amended to cover the changes which deal principally with the manner of electing home-owner representatives to the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, seven holding membership on the board.

Florian Boyd, member of the board and chairman of the special Community Advertising Fund solicitation, reported that 35 business men have paid or pledged almost $1500 and the contributions are rolling into the chamber of commerce office daily. Members of the board agreed to do telephone solicitation to speed the fund campaign ahead of the summer vacation.

MONEY being contributed by the business and professional people of the Village are deposited in a special community advertising fund and earmarked for advertising and promotional use solely, the expenditure to be made under direction of an advertising committee.

Members of the year's board of directors are as follows:

Warn Apartment And Hotel Men to Watch Rent Rules

Owners of hotels, apartment courts and houses which were decontrolled from rent restrictions last fall under the "winter resort decontrol order" today were cautioned by the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce to observe strictly terms of last year's regulation even though a similar ruling has not yet come through from the rent control headquarters.

Under last year's decontrol order, which was specifically applicable to the summer of 1946, operation of the rental establishments for a longer period than two weeks between June 1 and Oct. 1, made them ineligible for the removal of rent control even though they met all the other qualifications.

AN INQUIRY sent recently by the chamber of commerce to George McDonald, area rent control director at San Bernardino, brought the reply that no winter resort ruling has yet been issued to replace the 1946 regulation. He added that it has been the general rule to renew these orders year after year but could not predict the course of action in the winter resort matter.

The 1946 decontrol order was issued in September. It provided that rent control could be removed by the government from rental properties which had been operated on a seasonal basis prior to 1942 and had not been rented for any of the time between June 1 and Oct. 1, 1946. Later, on application of the chamber of commerce and the Hotel Apartment House Owners, the order was modified to allow operation of the properties for two weeks between the June 1 and Oct. 1 termini.

IF THE IDENTICAL RULING is made for 1947, no decontrolled property could be rented beyond June 14 if it was to be re-opened on Oct. 1, and not earlier than Sept. 16 if it is closed before June 1.

Due to the 1942 provision in the decontrol ruling no properties constructed after that year can qualify for the rent removal regardless of whether they comply with the summer closing. Only a fraction of the nearly 100 hotels, apartment houses and courts could comply with the decontrol ruling.

area that would represent a coalition of two political factions in the Indio district, but without avail. Finally Harper was approached and asked if he would allow his name to appear on a petition asking the Governor to appoint him. Immediately thereafter it became known that a petition asking for the appointment of Rouse was being circulated. Kerstner's name was projected into the campaign during the last four or five days. He is well respected in his community and without a doubt has the backing of many prominent civic persons seeking his appointment.

MORNING CONSTITUTIONAL—Avak greets his host, Krikor Arkelian, during a morning stroll on the beautiful grounds of the Arkelian estate. Avak . . .

fect anybody with whom he comes in contact. He impressed me as having a saintly personality and this, of course, was heightened by his attire."

ZANUCK STEERED clear of the subject regarding Avak's faith healing ability.

"I do not know anything about the faith healing cures performed by Avak except what I have read in the newspapers. But mind you," he continued, "I am not discounting his ability to affect cures. I just don't know."

It was at this point that Zanuck launched forth into a long discourse on the ability of persons to heal by faith.

"A NATIONALLY known doctor and myself were discussing the stories about Avak. The man is an authority in his particular field of medicine and although not a psychiatrist, he uses this form of therapy on many of his patients. 'This doctor,' he continued, 'doesn't discount the ability of Avak to heal.'

"The doctor pointed out that every century has its faith healers and some of them have accomplished many things where medicine has failed. The doctor," Zanuck continued, "seemed to be of the belief that the mind is so powerful it can accomplish almost the impossible."

ZANUCK, in reporting the opinions of his friend the doctor, cited several examples in paralysis. He said that paralysis is some case is caused by the mind and under the proper mental form of therapy, "This doctor," he continued, "doesn't discount the ability of Avak to heal."

"Using this form of therapy," Zanuck said the doctor told him, "the magnetism of a human mind—the electrical emanations, so implied, or whatever else this form of therapy can be called, cannot be seen or felt but is there nevertheless as seen in the cures affected."

Zanuck compared this ability to that of the radio waves.

"WE KNOW there are voices and music filling the air now but we cannot hear them unless we have a radio receiver. We touch a button on this machine and the air about us is quickly filled with sound. The doctor feels that this is true in the case of faith healers. They are transmitters, so to speak," the motion picture head explained.

He continued by explaining according to the doctor's version of faith healing that Avak, like other faith healers before him, may be a human transmitter of faith. "That's what the doctor said," smiled the film head, "and in my opinion, it is good food for thought but by no means my own opinion as to the healing powers of Avak. That I do not know."

FOLLOWING his visit at the Zanuck home Saturday night Avak, his retinue and members of the Arkelian family and friends drove to Burbank where he was an overnight guest of Nick Isahagian.

On Sunday, as an honored worshipper at the Armenian Apostolic Holy Cross church, 20th street and Maple Avenue, in Los Angeles, hundreds swarmed around the faith healer to touch his hand, kiss his robe and obtain his blessings.

TWO HOURS BEFORE his appearance at the church hundreds had already congregated and when Avak left, the police were helpless in keeping the crowds away from the healer.

Frank Neressian of Palm Springs who accompanied Avak to the church reported here yesterday that Avak, seeing the helplessness of the police in the face of the crowd, asked that the people not be molested and that he would find his own pathway through the mob.

"And you know," declared Neressian, "they opened a pathway for him as if like magic except that Krikor Arkelian and others in the party were shoved aside and became lost."

Social Season Comes to Brilliant Close at Belding's Desert Round Up

Last stellar social event of the season took place at the Paul and Anita Belding's home on Hermosa Place Saturday night and was attended by 135 friends of the couple who were honoring Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moffat, Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Almqvist, Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brinkman of Los Angeles.

The occasion, the second annual "Desert Round-up" to be staged by the Beldings in Palm Springs, also marked the birthday of Mesdames Moffat and Almqvist.

A COLORFUL EVENT, the entire gay party took place on the spacious lawn of the Belding home with buffet barbecue and tables set under strung electric lights and hurricane lamps.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Jaynes had charge of the barbecue wagon assisted by Mrs. Harold Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. George Wheeler, new publisher of the Villager, local monthly magazine.

Of the many guests who were present, approximately twenty "ride widows," wives of members of the Palm Springs Horsemen's association, were there, too, en-solo but enjoying themselves immensely.

CLIMAX of the affair was when a huge cake dotted with many candles was brought from the house and placed on the buffet table in the center of the yard. All gathered about and a

Villager in Court as Result of Accident

Gerald Weber was scheduled to face Judge E. E. Theriault in city court today on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated following an accident Friday night at midnight on Palm Canyon drive near Tahquitz drive.

Officers Jim Maynard and John Herrera investigated the accident and signed the complaint. Weber's automobile, according to police, collided with a car driven by W. J. Raviscioni of Madera, California.

Three persons in Weber's car were treated by Dr. W. P. Aiken for multiple lacerations and contusions as result of the accident.

chorus of voices filled the air singing "Happy Birthday to You" in honor of Mrs. Moffat and Mrs. Almqvist.

Around midnight most of the guests repaired to the Palm Springs Tennis club for swimming. Mr. and Mrs. Belding announced that they will close their house here at the end of this month and move to their town house in Los Angeles. Next season the new Belding home at Desert Palm Estates is expected to be ready for occupancy.

"I Rise to Remark"

By CONGRESSMAN JOHN PHILLIPS

One of the elementary methods of the propagandists who step so lightly from cloud to cloud is to accuse anyone who differs with them, of being against the issue. This is particularly true if the issue belongs to the group experienced legislators classify as "emotional."

That preamble was suggested, in my mind, by a vote to expect to make on the floor of the House at the time this letter appears in print. It will be a vote on the so-called school lunch program. I shall vote against spending large sums of Federal money for that purpose, as will other members of the Congress, and we are well aware that it will be said that we are opposed to the school lunch program.

I do not suppose there is a member of the Congress who is more earnestly in favor of the school lunch program than I am. For years, Kiwanis clubs and Rotary clubs, and Parent-Teacher associations, and numerous forward-looking men and women have realized that what we do for boys and girls, who only too soon will be the men and women of the nation, will have a direct effect on the nation's future. Milk bottles for luncheon table change, have been augmented by checks, and these in turn by the self-sacrificing services of women of the communities. These have built a program which today provides lunches in 55 thousand schools; about one fourth of the schools in this country.

It is still a fact, however, that the program is best, and always has been, the nearer interest, support and administration are kept to the local communities. I have not forgotten the carloads of apples shipped to Watsonville, the apple center of California; nor the trucks delivering unordered foodstuffs to Hemet, nor the regular deliveries, during the holidays, of perishable foods in Lake county; nor the decision that the poor, undernourished children of Beverly Hills (the highest assessed school district in California) had to have a weekly quarter pound of butter each at Federal expense.

These things were eventually corrected, but the problem is one of distance, and of Federal temptations. The school lunch program, as a matter of Federal interest, came about through legislation to move surplus agricultural commodities. Money for its support came from Section 32 funds (of the AAA bill) which set aside 30 per cent of the import duties to stimulate agriculture, presumably to offset the competition of the imported products. It is no longer that. In the Washington mind, it is now a complete nutritional program, under which school children will be advised what to eat, and the food bought for them, when necessary. Even the jurisdiction of the legislation is changed; it no longer goes to the committee on Agriculture, but to the committee on Education and Labor.

A good example of the Federal mind is shown by the interpretation of the matching provisions. The Federal government, in the minds of the committee members, was to match state and local contributions. Would you have guessed that the administrators of the program would have included in those local contributions the pennies paid by the school children for the lunches?

The average cost of a lunch was 30 cents. Of this the Federal treasury paid 9 cents. So the administrators of the program added the 21 cents, average, paid by the children, to the contributions voted by the states (which amounted only to 11 million dollars) and added in not only such contributions as those from lunch clubs, or P-T A's, but even added in what was considered to be the equivalent cash value of the volunteer work done by interested local women, and then matched this grand total with Federal money, to an amount of more than 75 millions.

The Appropriations committee does not look with favor on this interpretation of "matching." It has appropriated 45 millions for fiscal year '48 and written the terms a little more plainly. I would have made it a smaller figure, only enough for a Federal clearing-house, necessary for the national level, to direct the program. You see, I think the future of our children is the most important think in America. If it is as important as I think, then it should be a matter of first importance in every State. The Federal government is 269 billions in the hole; California has a surplus of 400 millions. Every state in the Union has a surplus or a balance. Mississippi and Alabama, often held up as examples of the need of the program, had balances respectively of 40 and 24 millions.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moore and two children, Nancy and Tommy, of Inglewood, were guests over the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Combs, 385 West Ramsey street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hickey spent the three day holiday at the home of Mrs. Hickey's daughter, Mrs. Harry Fister, and Mr. Fister, 742 26th street, San Bernardino. While away, Mr. Hickey enjoyed a swim in the Colton plunge, and a ball game in San Bernardino.

Miss Lorraine Haesler and Miss Sharon Huff of Oakland, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Black, 385 West Ramsey, over the weekend.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roach, 873 North First street, were Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Van Velzer of Whit-tier.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Stanfield, North San Geronio, entertained their entire family over the weekend. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Don Roberts and two children, Mr. and Mrs. James Fenwick and daughter, Lindy, from Santa Monica, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Stanfield from West Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stanfield. Also present for Memorial Day were Clarence Stanfield, O. R. Stanfield's brother, from Fullerton, his wife, and three daughters, who came to Banning for the barbecue at St. Boniface School.
